It does not appear under what provision of the Municipal Regulation, Govt is moved to include private sites of the kind referred to in the President's letter under the rule of the 20 ft margin. Under section 96(2) of the Regulation, the municipal Council may issue such orders as they think proper with reference to the location of the building in relation to any street existing or projected. The President's ~~marginal~~ attention may be invited to this provision and he may be asked whether under that authority, the Municipal Council cannot insist on a margin of 20 ft being left open in the case of

Office of the Municipal Council,

Sir,

No

Adverting to Government Proceedings No. 7869/M.200-C-2 dated the 23rd February 1910, directing the carlier enforcement of the rule of 30 Ft. margin in front of mandies in the New Sheragupet in all cases of future erections, I have the honor to state that, adjoining the sites acquired by the Municipality and allotted for the construction of mandies in New Sheragupet, there are certain vacant lands in the possession of private persons. The owners of some of these sites, on being ordered that their proposed mandy buildings should conform to the 30 Ft. rule as in the case of the other mandies, contended that the restriction was not strictly applicable to them inasmuch as their lands were not acquired for the formation of the New Sheragupet and subsequently sold by the Municipality for the building of mandies on certain express conditions, rule of 30 Ft limit being one of them.

2. Since these private sites are dispersed here and there in and around New Sheragupet and as applications for license for building mandies on a few of them are being received at present, while others are reserved for the same purpose with a view to take action sooner or later, I request that you will be so good as to move Government to include such private sites also situated in and around the New Bharagupet under the rule of the 20 Ft. margin.

3. A sketch of the New Bharagupet showing the vacant sites in question is herewith submitted for reference.

I have the honour to be
